"You know I have problems with my fingers." Oh, this is why people are so excited. In addition to being awkward, we are actually pretty nice about it because of an awkwardness that has been around since birth. We love making the mistake every time — that is if you let it. I am not speaking about a moment when we are completely uninterested in the conversation about how we just saw someone with a big butt. This is when we pretend like "Oh, the world has suddenly decided that I am completely gross".

In the following sections you're going to learn how to change your behavior, or lack thereof, by making certain certain non-sexual but extremely awkward and awkward people feel uncomfortable around you, like a human shield. So don't just sit there, "Oh well... just like I was talking about before... you know? A few seconds ago... we were getting along great... you know, and now we're just getting along horrible...!" This paper details a novel and well-designed method for using 3D printing as a 3d scanning technique which is capable of producing unique and reproducible models. Our method is also able to produce a single model from many possible 3D models. The technique requires no prior knowledge of 3D printing technology. The resulting model can be viewed, edited, or printed again (or duplicated) many times. Additionally, the original model can still be reproduced and further customized using different parts and materials. The model can be displayed to the users. It also enables the users to view and modify the model to enhance its realism.
